

Voices IATEFL Magazine

Voices is the official magazine of the International Association of Teachers of English as a Foreign Language (IATEFL). It serves as a key communication platform within the global community of English language teaching (ELT) professionals.

Voices is published six times a year. The magazine is aimed at ELT professionals worldwide, including teachers, trainers, researchers, and administrators.

Voices features a wide range of content related to English language teaching, such as:

- Articles and Essays: These cover various topics in ELT, including teaching techniques, classroom management, technology in education, and cultural issues.
- Interviews: With prominent figures in the ELT community, offering insights into trends and developments in the field.
- Event Reports: Coverage of IATEFL conferences, webinars, and other events.
- Member Contributions: Articles and stories from IATEFL members, sharing their experiences and ideas.
- Book Reviews: Reviews of new publications in the field of ELT.
- Practical Tips: For teaching and professional development.

Voices is an essential resource for anyone involved in the field of English language teaching. It offers a mix of scholarly and practical content that helps ELT professionals stay connected and informed, fostering a sense of community among IATEFL members worldwide.
